former as the latter industry. That period is not a distant one when the Southern producer with whom even "greenbacks" are now scarce, will have gold his surplus will be invested in manufacturing railways, and other enterprises developing the resources of the South. Naught but some providential calamity can prevent this, and ere the third of the century shall pass the South will be the successful rival of the North in every turing, and in this she will be aided in an early beginning by capital even from New England. We notice that capitalists now in Eastern cities have finally got tired of holding most of the currency idle and without interest, and a marked activity begins to manifest itself in bonds

It is estimated that New York alone will have $150,000,000 to invest during the coming three months, and if prices of grain advance, the public may witness a rebound from the present business depression, and a lively time generally.

but they lack currency and a market. A few millions of money put afloat would revive every department of industry and trade, and a few millions put afloat in the South, indications of which are apparent, will inaugurate that "beginning" to which the world is looking.

THE TRUTH ABOUT THOMAS:
 An Interesting Letter from General Fitzhugh Lee.
 [From the Baltimore Gazette.]

The following letter from General Fitzhugh Lee is a valuable contribution to the history of the recent war. It was called out by us. He has given us permission to publish it:

"I knew General Thomas well. Was a Lieutenant in a cavalry regiment of when he was the major before the war, and stationed at the same post in Texas with him. He was an excellent artillery officer (served in that army in Mexico,) an indifferent cavalry one—too heavy, too slow. Had not that coup d'aile plus rapide que le coursier, empre' au gallop.

centaure,' that General Fy talks about in the 'Peninsular War,' but which did not prevent him from being a general officer of indisputable courage and unquestionable merit.

to which side he should enlist with," &c. The New York Tribune, however, and all other Northern newspapers that I have read upon his name and fame, lay great stress upon his being a Virginian who never faltered in his allegiance to the Union. But they were all silent

"It is a fact that when war threatened between the two sections of 'the best Government the world ever saw,' Gen. Thomas' feelings were Southern to almost the bellicose degree.

"It is a fact that about that time," he wrote a letter to John Letcher, "then "The State of his birth can hardly be expected, under the circumstances, to erect a monument to him; but it should not defame him.

man, and fought well, though against us. Let him rest in peace; and let Virginia keep her vials of wrath to be forever poured out upon the heads of some few of her citizens who would not fight upon either side, but who stayed at home, and made money by being middlemen in the trade.

as spies, guides and informers, or who, after having fought, have acted as if they were ashamed of their past record.

"Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

FITZHUGH LEE.

TROPHE.—Among the incidents connected with the sad occurrence at Richmond, on the 28th ult., were the following:—
Dr. Thompson, member of the House of Delegates, from Hanover, was caught under two men who were instantly killed

Mr. P. H. Keeman was buried beneath the ruins for three quarters of an hour, and was found nearly suffocated under the dead bodies. He has almost entirely recovered.

gentleman whose name he could not learn. He asked, "My friend, can you not move a little?" Mr. Burgess replied, "No, I cannot stir." "Well," said he, "I must die. Good-bye."

Mr. Thomas Joyner fell together with Dr. J. B. Brock, and his mouth rested against the doctor's advice. He asked him who it was near him. He told him his name; and he asked him in case he survived to carry many messages of affection to his family. With words of endearment and love for those he left behind he died.

HOW THE WOOD GOES.—The present consumption of wood in the United States is enormous. One hundred and fifty thousand acres of the best timber is cut every year to supply the demand for railway sleepers alone. For railroad buildings, houses and other a single year the locomotives in the United States consume $5,000,000 worth of wood. There are in the whole country more than 400,000 artisans in wood, and if the value of their labor is $2,000 a year, the wood industry of the country

A "Warning" Dream.—The Solence yesterday mentions the following singular incident in connection with the fall of Senator Stanford's building, in that city, and the death of the man left

The person who went to break the news of Jeffrey's death to his wife this morning instead of telling her that her husband was killed told her that he had been hurt. She immediately told them that her husband was killed. She said she had dreamed the night before that

He laughed it off, kissed his wife and children all around and went to his room.

JACKSONVILLE ALA. MAY 21, 1870.

Moore, Jenkins & Co.
It is with more than usual pleasure we invite attention to the advertisement of Moore, Jenkins & Co., of New York, as this firm is by far the largest exclusive Southern Grocery House in New York, and is more widely and favorably known throughout the South than any other firm is further the oldest Southern (Dry) House in the City, others having imitated their title to seniority by suspension during and immediately after the war. Two members of the firm, Messrs. Moore & Hughes are Southern men, and Mr. Hughes had the honor of serving in the Confederate Army under Gen. Lee. One may say that such consideration as these men do not enter into business. Perhaps they do not; but that is no reason they should not. We are sure that men who sympathized with us during the struggle and who were prompt to extend credit to impoverished Southern Merchants after the war, deserve more of our consideration, than those who sat up and cursed us for "rebels" during that time, and closed their stores against us when we sorely needed credit. In our prosperity let us remember those who remembered us in poverty. First among these stands the firm of Moore, Jenkins & Co.

Geo. S. Ruble.—In another column will be found the advertisement of Geo. Ruble, of Chattanooga. Mr. Ruble probably the largest dealer in his line in the South. His establishment at Chattanooga is simply immense and his facilities for shipment better than at any other point. Some in this section lay of Mr. Ruble, that to such we refer all farmers and others who may need something in his line, and who does need something in his line? It is common sense with the wants of humanity. We do not know of anything outside the Dry Goods and Grocery line at Mr. Ruble cannot furnish from a team engine, inclusive of the best and cheapest fire-proof safes in the world, to a wonderful patent spinning wheel or beehive. Chattanooga is now convenient and will be more so on the completion of the railroad from here to Gadsden, and the S. R. & D. R. R. to Jackson. The Chattanooga merchants are the most liberal advertising men we know of doing more out from home than Rome and Eliza combined, and ergo they are the men to deal with. Lay this down as a axiom: A liberal advertiser is the most useful man with his customers.

It was with pleasure we met day-before yesterday George Byron, of Chattanooga, the clearest Englishman and Merchant alive. With the foresight characteristic of Chattanooga merchants, he is taking out for the trade of this section, which is soon to flow to that town. We mention the firm of Byron & Bohr to who was wanting anything in his line.

We notice from a circular issued by D. Draper, Son & Co., that their terms henceforth will be CASH. As they are required to pay cash for their goods, they are compelled to adopt this measure. The move is a good one.

To receive a present is always agreeable, not so much on account of the intrinsic worth of the present, as the evidence carried with it of the good will of the donor. To be remembered by an clever and much esteemed gentleman as Montgomery Bros., is particularly agreeable. Lately we have been indulging in some of their excellent canned goods, Salmon &c., which we assure you as relished the more highly, coming from this neat establishment. The fruits of fish are elegant, as is everything else you have and we want everybody to go off and buy some of them.

Some time ago we mentioned painted coffee as being in town. We since learn that coffee dealers there is no such thing as painted coffee, but the green stain is onto it by its remaining on the tree along as Cotton turns yellow by remaining on the stalk too long. It is only inferior, not painted coffee.

The Democratic Central Executive Committee have called a meeting of the State Committee the 23rd of this month.

Rev. S. M. Monk, will on the third Sabbath in June, preach at Scott's meeting house 4 miles north of Jacksonville.

It is with the deepest regret we announce the death of Mr. W. A. King, a married resident among us.

Mr. King died of consumption, contracted in the service of the Confederate Army during the war. He was an officer and a soldier in that army, and has just paid the price of his devotion to his fortunate country. Though comparatively a stranger, his death has cast a shadow over our entire community and his loss is the heartfelt sympathy of every one. He was buried yesterday.

Farmers are invited to call and examine the large stock of HOES at MONTGOMERY BROS., which they are selling at cheap prices.

CROSS PLAINS, ALA. April 20, 1870.

At a meeting of the teachers and pupils of Cross Plains Institute, on motion of the principal, Maj. Bailey, Rev. P. M. Treadway was called to the chair and Mr. Thos. Tracey requested to act as secretary. The committee pointed to prepare appropriate resolutions in regard to the death of one of the pupils reported the following, which were unanimously adopted: Whereas, It has pleased Almighty God, in his infinite wisdom, to take from our midst our beloved schoolmate, Miss Sophia C. Ledbetter, Therefore, Resolved 1st. That while we deeply deplore her absence among us, we feel that our loss is her eternal gain, and we bow in humble submission to the will of Him who "doeth all things well." Resolved 2nd. That in the death of Miss Sophia, the school has lost one of its ornaments, the pupils an affectionate friend, the church a true & pious member, and her parents a dutiful and affectionate daughter. Resolved 3d. That out of respect for the dead and sympathy with the bereaved, we will suspend the regular sessions of the Institute for this day and attend the funeral, and that we will wear the usual badge of mourning. Resolved 4th. That a copy of the proceedings of this meeting be furnished to the Jacksonville Republican for publication, and that a copy be sent to the afflicted family.

RAILROADS BUILT IN 1869.—During the year 1869 there were built in the United States 6,588 miles of railroad—nearly twice as many as in any previous year. Three hundred now are projected or under contract, which, when completed, will make 15,000 additional miles.

REMEDY FOR POISONS.—If any poison is swallowed, drink instantly a half a glass of cool water, with a heaping teaspoonful each of common salt and ground mustard stirred into it. This vomits as soon as it reaches the stomach. But for fear some of the poison may remain, swallow the white of one or two eggs, or drink a cup of strong coffee—these two being antidotes for a great number of poisons than any other dozen of articles known, with the advantage of their being always on hand; if not, a pint of sweet oil, drippings, melted butter or lard, are good substitutes, especially if they vomit quickly.

WASHINGTON. May 15.—In the Senate, a bill granting the public lands in Alabama to the Decatur and Aberdeen Railroad, passed.

In the House bills were introduced granting lands to the New York and Norfolk Railroad; for the improvement of the Tambling River; not to exclude women from census Marshals; for constructing a bridge across the Ohio, at Metropolitan, Ill.; and for granting lands for a Railroad from Mississippi to Arkansas River, along 35 parallel.

The House refused to order the Reconstruction committee to report a bill for general amnesty—vote 51 to 78.

Committees are doing nothing.

Congressman Pierce, from the 5th Missouri District, nominated a negro to West Point.

WISCONSIN. May 15.—A boy dropped a lantern near a leaking barrel of kerosene on the Steamer War Eagle, vessel plying between Milwaukee and St. Paul railway. The oil taking fire destroyed the depot and elevator with contents were consumed. The passengers escaped by jumping in the river. Two lives were lost.

THE STATE OF ALABAMA.
Calhoun County.

Court of Probate for said county, Special Term, May the 18th, 1870.

This day came Mary M. Whitley, a citizen of said county, and files in court her written petition, representing that she is the widow of John W. Whitley, deceased, late of said county; that the said John W. Whitley died, seized and possessed of the following described Land or Real Estate, being situated in said county, to-wit: The south west quarter of section 35, Township 14, Range 7, and the half of section west fourth and north west fourth of south east fourth, and the north west fourth of section 2, Township 15, Range 7, except that portion of said last mentioned quarter, being east of a line commencing at the north east corner of the north fourth of the north west fourth, and running a south west direction to a spring known as the Heard Spring, thence a south east direction to the south east corner of the north east fourth, the north west fourth of said section 2, Township 15, Range 7, east, in said county of Calhoun; also one undivided half interest in a certain Stone House and Lot in the Town of Alexandria in said county, known as the Dickson Stone House, commencing at a stone on the Oxford road on main street, running with the Oxford road to the branch, thence up the branch to R. Green's land, corner of Mrs. Wood's lot, thence north to a stone corner on the main street lot to a stone on north main street, thence down said main street to the beginning. Petitioner prays that dower be assigned to her in the Lands or Real Estate described in her said petition.

It is therefore ordered by the Court, that the 15th day of June next be set for the hearing and determining said petition, and that notice thereof be given by publication in the Jacksonville Republican, a weekly Newspaper published in the Town of Jacksonville, Alabama, for three successive weeks prior to said day, as a notice to the non resident heirs at law and distributees of said estate, as well as all other persons concerned, to be and appear at a special term of said court to be holden at the court house of said county on said 21st day of June next and contest the granting of said application and the assignment of dower, if they think proper.

We pay Agents from $75 to $200 per month and expenses, or a commission from which twice that amount can be made. Address SECOMB & CO., Pittsburgh, Pa., Boston, Mass., or St. Louis, Mo.

CAUTION—Beware of all Agents selling Machines under the same name as ours, unless they can show us Certificate of agency signed by us. We shall not hold ourselves responsible for worthless Machines sold by other parties, and shall prosecute all parties either selling or using Machines under this name to the full extent of the law, unless such Machines were obtained from us or our Agents. Do not be imposed upon by parties who copy our advertisement and circulars and offer worthless Machines at a low price.

Last Call.

J. M. Carroll & Co., wish to call the attention of all those who have not paid their account for 1869, would advise them to come forward and pay up without further delay, as we are compelled to have money. The old adage "stitch in time saves nine,"

may 1870.—1m.
